Corporate Travel Management Group Unveils Its New Name - "CorpTrav"

LOMBARD, Illinois - June 5, 2008 – Corporate Travel Management Group (CTMG), unveiled its new name and corporate identity today, and will now be known as CorpTrav. The announcement was presented at a brand launch kickoff event today at their Worldwide Headquarters in Lombard, Illinois, in front of CorpTrav's North American staff and strategic vendor partners.

“This change is not from a merger or purchase of any kind, but stems as a reflection of our continued growth, innovative new technology platforms and our continuing dedication to be the best in the travel management industry as we have been for the past 32 years,” commented Bonnie Loreface, Founder and CEO of CorpTrav. "High-touch service has always been a hallmark of CorpTrav" said Loreface, "but when you look at travelers and travel arrangers today, we’re dealing with clients who are better informed, technologically connected and focused on their business. Our new technologies and service offerings will be powerful tools to help them advance in an increasingly technological travel world.”

CorpTrav will have the same group of dedicated experts that will continue to offer clients the same “high-touch” service they have experienced since they opened their doors in 1976. The new name reflects CorpTrav’s growth as a company and their ability to offer clients more advanced services and technologies that result in a more cost-effective and hassle-free travel experience.
