

GetThere Honors Corporate Travel Management Group's Online Booking Program

CHICAGO, Illinois--Feb. 5, 2007--GetThere, the world's leading online corporate travel reservation technology, today announced the travel management company (TMC) winners of its new Luminary Awards. The agencies were honored for their achievements in driving increased travel savings for their corporate clients via use of the GetThere booking system in 2006.

GetThere developed several categories for the Luminary Awards to appropriately address the excellence of TMCs earning recognition for their performance in 2006. As one of GetThere's top partners, Corporate Travel Management Group was presented with the first-ever Luminary award in the area of Most Year Over Year Growth.

CTMG has had great success in customizing online adoption programs based on the goals and corporate cultures of clients. By marketing online booking to travelers who would use it, corporations realize a great cost savings in transaction fees. Corporate Travel Management Group excelled in the online travel space this past year with transactions that saw a 136% increase in 2006. CTMG's in-house programming coupled with the ability to evolve quickly and seamlessly in the online travel world was instrumental to this achievement. GetThere explained, "Your dedication, persistence and attention to detail helped deliver significant cost savings to your customers and tremendous online success for CTMG!"

"GetThere's travel technology is a critical element of our offering to corporations," said Jane Batio, president of Corporate Travel Management Group. "The latest enhancements, combining easier booking processes with concise, informative displays for travelers, make the rollout and adoption process seamless." CTMG's online bookings via GetThere nearly tripled in 2006.

CTMG is proud to be recognized as one of GetThere's top partners in driving increased travel savings for our clients through online booking.
